

Dr. Carlos Arreola

December 27, 1941 - November 19, 2019

There are very few among us who have dedicated their life to the care and protection of others, with no thought of personal reward. Dr. Carlos Arreola was one of those very few. His extraordinary life was filled with selfless service to others, first as a combat-wounded veteran of the Vietnam War and later as a Veterans Administration Counselor, helping heal the hearts and minds of those who returned in body but not in spirit. His interest in nature and the preservation of all living things became a dominant theme in his life, and he began to involve himself more deeply in wildlife care and animal rescue. He determined to participate in Cleveland Amory's rescue of the Grand Canyon Burros, who were scheduled for slaughter by the National Park Service. The idea of making a home near Huntsville for some of these castaways fixed Carlos' future destiny and personal philosophy, as he observed how animals in our society were objectified and casually tossed away when inconvenient. Little Woman Home for Animals (LWHA) was founded in 1999 with the mission of providing life-long care to those who came to stay, and he never wavered in that goal for the following 20 years. LWHA was named in memory of a beloved Chihuahua "Little Woman," the first of his countless animal guests that came to his gate over the following years.

Carlos was intensely personal and was legendary among those who knew him for finding ways to avoid talking about himself or his life. His interest was solely in keeping the 14-acres he purchased as the site of LWHA as unspoiled as possible. His concern was for all nature, and he expressed his desire to make sure the plants, birds and even insects were provided a place in their natural habitat, and not displaced unless necessary to construct facilities to care for the animals. He poured his heart, his soul, his financial resources and his prodigious energy into Little Woman Home without reservation and without thought for himself. His life was bound up with LWHA and his only concern was making sure that vision did not fade after he passed.

Carlos was an inspiration, a joy, a mystery, and an exemplar for all whose heart is touched by the suffering of any animal, who believe human beings should be caretakers of the amazing creatures we share this world with and who give of themselves so that suffering can be lessened. He will never be replaced, but will be remembered by his family and friends their whole life long. And no doubt, Carlos would be most pleased knowing that his presence here on earth meant that countless creatures enjoyed an existence they would not have had, but for his great love. Godspeed to you, Carlos.

Dr. Arreola asked that those desiring to remember him do so by support of LWHA.

“ So saddened to hear this. He truly made a difference in so many lives, both 2 and 4 legged. I know he has a very special place in heaven. I imagine there were many happy faces and tails wagging when he met them at the rainbow bridge. He was such a special man and I feel blessed to have known him. He is going to be missed immensely. Rest In Peace, Carlos “ Carlos we are so sad you are gone but it was time. I'll never forget the day you asked a favor of me to foster an especially large Great Pyrenees dog that I said Yes to. You asked me to foster him for 10 days and I just waited for 5 days before my husband said “ We can keep him”. BIG brought much joy to us and anyone he met and just this year he had to be put down due to his second bought with cancer weighing in @ 165 lbs. Carlos placed many a special animal with the right person and those that could not be adopted always had a forever home @ Little Woman Home For Animals! Rest In Peace Carlos job very well done!

“ Carlos was one of the most unselfish people I've ever known. He would give the shirt off his back to anyone in need wether that individual be two legged, four legged, a creature that crawls on the the ground or the envirnment in general, Carlos started his working career in El Paso Texas in a veterrarian's office tending to animals, then he went into the U S Army serving in Vietnam, then got a Phd in psycology to serve trouble veterans due to that war among others and finally founded his no-kill animal sanuary, Little Woman Home for Animals. Service to people, animals and the envirment was Carlos', whole life and we are all richer for it. He made life more pleasent to thousands.

Good bye Carlos and thank you for your frindship, kindness and focused determination to improve the welfare of others.

“ Carlos and I met when he first started Little Woman. That is when we got Max! We started talking, and one thing lead to another, and soon we were talking about our backgrounds. Carlos had such a gentle way about him that drew both people and critters to him. I will never forget his sense of humor...dry, witty, tongue-in-cheek. His work for both veterans and the animals he held so dear, will never be forgotten! Love you, Carlos!! Rest easy, my friend.

“ I had the honor of knowing Carlos and the rest of the LWHA squad. He had a vision and made that dream happen. This photo is from our 2013 visit and clearly shows his love for the animals and theirs for him.
