When I quit this mortal shore
And mosey 'round this earth no more
Don't weep, don't sigh, don't grieve, don't sob;
I may have struck a better job.
Don't go and buy a large bouquet
For which you'll find it hard to pay.
Don't stand around me looking blue;
I may be better off than you.

“ Although I really only met her once, she left a lasting impression of true love and southern grace. A gentle woman who lived well and loved well.

“ Such wonderful memories we have. being Sorority Sisters. We met every other Tuesday for dinner and off to each other's house for coffee and dessert. We would laugh and just loved being together. There were no secrets because we went around and shared.

One trip Daph, Doris, Polly and I headed to San Antonio for a Beta Sigma Phi convention. I will never forget the stories Doris and Daph told about their teen years. They had Polly and I in stitches.

Doris, you and Daph have fun together again.
