“ Another cousin reporting in. Ben was one of a kind. He was a very unique individual with a beautiful sense of humor that he didn't let many people see. His devotion to his mother and his care for her personal needs during the years until her death was something that I've never seen or heard of a man accomplishing before. He told me once that she told him he would never be able to send her to a nursing home. When he asked why, she said, "Because I'm spoiled rotten and that's your fault." His kindness extended to my mother and other aunts as well.

I got a Christmas card from Ben saying he'd decided old age was something he'd just as soon skip. I know he is at peace and no longer struggling or hurting now.
