I was deeply saddened to hear the news of Brian's sudden passing. We were just talking last week about the new experiments we hoped to run in the future. For 20 years Brian was a colleague and a friend - both at Baker Hughes and at Halliburton. He always exhibited a dedication to finding the right answer, and was not dissuaded by those who urged acceptance of mediocrity. He accepted new challenges with a smile and sometimes a quip. Brian was the real deal, and will be sorely missed among his technical colleagues.

For his family, whom he cherished above all else, I can only offer my sincere condolences and prayers of support. God bless and comfort you in your time of grief. Rest in Peace, Brian.
