“ Today I was informed of the news that Carolyn is no longer with us and I am shocked, saddened and regretful that I did not tell her how wonderful she was and how she made such an impact on my life when I had the chance. Carolyn and I spent time together in special ways. She invited me to her house at Christmas when I otherwise would have spent that day without a big family experience because my family lived too far away and I could not afford to travel to see them. She made me feel as if I was a part of her own family and she did that many, many times in the time I knew her. I never thought this would happen so soon, and I'm very sorry for not telling her how special she was when I had the chance. Right now I am thinking of her husband and her children and praying that they will have peace in their hearts and strength that only God can give during such a difficult time as this. I have learned a valuable lesson, and that is the importance of letting people know the impact they are having on my life while it is happening, not waiting, or assuming that they know, but actually telling them. I don't know why I didn't do it while I had the chance, and even though I do know that Carolyn is in a perfect place now, I do miss her. I want to honor her memory and let her family know that I know how amazing she was and I'm grateful for the time she chose to spend with me, it was always wonderful, and she always treated me with such kindness and love, just like the rest of her family. These are the things I will remember and cherish. With love, Candace

“ Jesus said in John 16:33 "I have told you these things so that in me you will have peace. Here on earth you will have many trials and sorrows, but cheer up, for I have overcome the world." Carolyn has also overcome the world and is in the presence of her Savior. She always had a smile! Praying for all of you to receive this peace that Jesus promises. God Bless.
