“ Mom, I miss you so bad right now. I wish I had someone to talk to. I really really want to talk about you and my memories to people but it's soo hard.. I can't lay down at night without thinking about you. No matter how hard I try to fight it I am always sad but I put on a front. It's been soo long mom and I still cannot deal with it. Nicki just had a baby and I am so jealous knowing that my sister will get two loving parents. I know you loved me but dang it mom!! I wish you were here. I wish you could see me and the man I have become. I wish you could have watched me play baseball and to watch me learn how to ride a bike. And to hold my sister for te first time. And to see me learn how to dance. MOM I love you more than anything in this world. Just remember to save a place for me please. And to just let me hear that you love me. And a even just one more hug. So be sure to have a seat for me. " side by side or miles apart, you'll always be close to my heart"
I love you mom. Can't wait to see you and hear your voice.
You're loving son -Tyler

“ I feel this is the only way to talk to you... I want you to know that tonight.. I feel like I saw you.. I was eating alone and looked across the table and swear I saw you. Mom I don't know how to cope with missing you so much. It hurts me so much knowing that on Mother's Day I don't have a mother to say just thank you for all you've done.. I put on a front each am every day just to show people that I'm a strong guy.. But the truth is I am not. But when I let my emotions show I feel like my family gets tired of hearing about it. Mom I want you back😔 please I'll do anything just to hear an I love you one more time.. Show me a sign that you're with me please.. That's all I ask😔 and to help me with life. Help me be the person you wanted me to be.. I can continue to talk on and on but eventually I will Find a friend who can auctally help me or even a family member.... I love you forever and always.. Thank you for being the best you can be.. Your son - Jason Tyler Easterling

“ Dear mom, I love you so much. I want you to know even though you aren't here. I won't ever forget you😢 I wish you could meet my friend Taylor. She is the greatest. I wish you could have been with me on senior night for my last baseball game. I know you are watching over me. I will never forget the very few stories I have of you. I miss you more as more each day. My friend Taylor is amazing..! She is the only person I am even want to talk to when I talk to you. I love you sooooo much and miss you more and more everytime I blink. See you soon. Love you.

“ My last memories of Deanna was us laughing and having a good time. She was always on the go, and made the best of everything. Deanna was the best to be around, we joked and talked non stop. This is a shock and very unexpected, and I wish that I could of been around more, but I know Deanna is ok, and happy. I lost my mom four years ago, and it's something you'll never get over, but you just remember the good times. It seems like everyone says that, and it's easier said then done, but it is true, and now you all will know that she'll be much better. May God be with you all, in this time of need. My thoughts and prayers go out to the family.
