“ Mr. and Mrs. Johnson:

I just learned of Debbie's untimely passing 2 days ago when I returned to the dental school to give a lecture. Debbie was a true joy to work with and left a forever impression on my heart and the heart's of those that came in contact with her. I pray for God's comfort to surround you, as we all will continue to celebrate Debbie's life and the privilege it was to know her.

“ Mr & Mrs Johnson, I am deeply sadden for the both of you and each member of your family. I really enjoyed working with Debbie and was sad to see her leave the office. She was truly a beautiful person inside and out and a joy to be around because she had such a confident personality. This is such a bitter sweet passing, for I know she was suffering from alot of pain and now she nolonger endures such pain. I know you all miss her but she believed in the Lord Jesus Christ as her savior and I know she was embraced by Him as she entered the gates. All of you have my prayers for strength and comfort. God bless you all.

“ Debbie, I have been speechless for days. My heart is light for you now, knowing that you are released from intense physical and emotional pain. I will forever miss the times that we laughed and cried together. Our sleepovers, (even though we were in our late 30's),our late night pig out sessions at either your house or mine,and our fond love of animals. I was truly blessed to be your neighbor and friend. Love always, Laura “ Debbie was a most special person who I feel blessed to have known and worked with. We have missed her and her "we can do this" attitude since her departure in 2008. For myself and on behalf of the UT School of Dentistry at Houston, our most sincere condolences on Debbie's passing. She is indeed now at peace and as she rejoins John.
