“ I want to give my condolences to the family. I really think of Denise Brice when we went on a trip with our youth & young ladies from Park Temple Baptist Church. We all had a great time & I always think about the pass. My heart is always with the families!

“ Denise had an appointment for me to do her hair today. As I have done, for about 12 years now. Every single month.

I will never, ever, get used to not seeing her, talking to her, and running my fingers through her hair, on such a consistent schedule.

Denise will always be such a huge part of my life. And one of the biggest reasons that I am who I am today.

*I was so incredibly shy when we met.
But she was so easy to talk to,
once she got me talking.*

*It was her honesty,
her patience.
Her rich stories were so relatable
That I couldn't help but share mine.*

*She was such a true and authentic person,
I suspect that she brought out the truth and authenticity in EVERYONE who has been lucky enough to know her.*

I cannot tell you all of the ways that Denise AND her family have impacted my life.

*When I first started doing hair,
I was sooo scared of people.
Especially NEW people.*

*But these folks...
Denise, Eva, Paige, Raymond,
Her mama Pat.
They didn't stay "new people" for long.*

They were some of my very first repeat clients.

And they've become some of my oldest and dearest friends.

My heart breaks for all of her beautiful, kind, and loving family. I can only imagine how unbearable this must feel for them. And yet they have been so giving, with words of comfort and love, even in the midst of this deep loss.

That's just how they are.

She will be so deeply missed, always.

I am gonna miss her stories.

I'm gonna miss her sas.

I am gonna miss seeing the pure delight in her eyes, when she shows me pictures of her granbabies.

I'll miss the pride in her voice when she talks about her brilliant daughter and son-in-law whom she has adored so much.

I'm gonna miss hearing about her day at work

I'm gonna miss laughing with her.

I will, so sorely, miss doing her hair.

Love you so much, Denise. Always.

“ So sorry to know Denise is gone, I worked with her for a number of years at Huntsville Memorial Hospital before I retired. She was a dedicated worker and a nice friend. Saw her this year at the pharmacy and she showed me pictures of her grandchild, so proud. My sincere condolences to her family, I know they will miss her.
