“ I have only know Dee about 8 or 9 years. She always had a smile and never had a complaint. It wasn't until very recently I learned she was ill. My heartfelt condolences to her family and friends. My prayers for their strength and comfort in the coming months ahead.

“ I have worked with Dee for ten years and she was the best organized person that I have ever known. She made our office run efficiently and correctly. She wasn't shy. She handled so much for us and as the old saying goes, you don't know what a person did until they aren't there to do it anymore? Well, we found out the hard way. Aside from Dee being my co-worker, she was my friend. She had the biggest smile and her eyes always smiled along with the most contagious laugh. She loved home grown tomatoes and cucumbers. Her desk sits empty as it has for the past six months and it's so surreal to know she will never walk the halls again. We had all hoped and prayed she would return. You fought a difficult fight to the bitter end and gave your all, just as you did in anything you handled. Keep smiling Dee, the hard part is over. May you always be at peace.
