

Donald Glen Maxwell

September 27, 1973 - September 19, 2025

With heavy hearts, we announce the passing of Donald Glen Maxwell—a loving father, cherished son, beloved brother, and loyal friend—who left us on September 19, 2025, at the age of 51.

Glen was a man with a huge heart, whose greatest joy in life was being surrounded by the people he loved. For him, family and friends weren't just important—they were everything. He gave his love freely, lived generously, and never hesitated to show up for those he cared about. Whether you knew him for a lifetime or just a little while, you felt his kindness, and the warmth of his spirit. He loved deeply and fully, always putting others above himself.

Glen was a devoted father who was incredibly proud of his children. The love he gave them is the kind that stays with you for a lifetime.

His presence brought comfort, laughter, and light to those around him. His legacy is one of love, humor, and unwavering loyalty.

Glen is survived by his daughter, Cali Maxwell; his son, Gage Maxwell; his sister, Alexis Dempsey, and her husband, Bo Dempsey; his brothers, Kenny Hosch and Spencer Hosch, and Spencer's wife, Diane Hosch. He is also survived by his nieces, nephews, extended family, and countless friends who loved him dearly.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Donald and Sharon Maxwell.

Visitation with family and friends will be held on Friday, October 3rd, from 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. at Sam Houston Memorial Funeral Home in Willis, Texas. A Celebration of Life will follow at 12:00 p.m., with interment at Smith

Memorial Park Cemetery.

“ I had spine surgery several years ago in Tyler, and of all things, my surgeon Todd Rabbe knew Glen from high school football. His memories were of Glen playing just about all positions as Mad Dog Maxwell. No one could catch Glen when he had the football or could tackle him because he was so fast. I did go to one of Glen's games and all of that was true. If Glen had been taller or bigger, he would be in the football history books by now. Football was his passion.

“ I’ve always missed the good ole days and I loved talking with you about them! I’m glad I got to hang out with you the last few months. I miss the rope swings at Spring Creek, hide and go seek at the Maxwell’s, egg and bologna fried sandwiches in the morning before school at your house, the haircuts your mom used to give us and yes... we probably got in trouble for sneaking out a few times, going up to the farm driving white lightning for midnight rides learning the 3 on the tree and clutch together and fishing and hunting everywhere up there, The BMX days at the track in the neighborhood, and playing and getting trouble for gambling at Little League sports while we were playing against each other. We got benched for that one! 42 years of friendship. I love you, brother and will celebrate you forever!!!

“ Growing up as a Timber Lakes Timber Ridge kid at such a young as was beyond cool in all of our eyes. We had the big pool and big tree that we all went to every summer to swim at. Once we reached teenagers we all went to “The Creek” and had log wrestling fights and rope swing adventures. So many memories of hanging out. Growing up it was either at Glens house down the creek side, Darcy Hansens house, Richard Harris, or David Heese place. We were a pack back then. Glen, Jill Griggs, Tambra Champions, Heather Hawkins, David Heese, Darcy Hansen, and all the hood rats that grew up in “ The Hood” . Time went on and we grew up and moved on, got married, divorced, etc. but no matter what we always connected at Mollys Pub, Pappas Ice House, 19th Hole, Flying Pug, and other bars around. Condolence to all of Glen friends and family. May you find comfort knowing even at a young age Glen was so loved.

“Glen will always be a part of Jimmy and my history. He was there the day we met and he was there (as the third wheel) which I loved and wouldn't have changed because we always had such a great time together. He and Jimmy were like brothers, and in these last few years, I am happy to say that Glen came back into our lives, and I formed a stronger connection with him than ever. Love you Glen. I'll miss our talks.
