“ I remember my nephew Dylan as a cheerful, fun, and genuinely affectionate child. It is a matter of personal regret that I didn't have the opportunity to know Dylan better as an adult, but from the postings I've read, I know he was much loved. His passing at such a young age has been shocking and tragic. His memory will be carried forever in the hearts of all his family and friends. My sincere condolences to his parents, Brenda and Paul, and to his sister Alexa. All my love, Anne “ Dylan was a great "next door" neighbor when he came to visit his Dad. Always polite, friendly and ready to play with Jack or Alex. At 16, I remember being totally impressed with his math skills. It was always a treat to see him at one of Jack's sporting events. It is a loss to us all that we won't be able to witness his future. May his memory bring comfort to all who knew and loved him.
