This is one of my most treasured memories during a time when I visited with my Aunt Edna. We went window shopping at a sort of outdoor antique mall in Conroe. and had to park about 4 blocks away. As we walked along the sidewalk, we talked of the times when we were young and had to walk miles to school and other places. She compared how walking back in the day to walking now was more fun than now. I agreed, saying “we had fun when we walked as kids, like singing and playing skip to ma loo...we are less active today in our day to day lives. .She smiled of the thought of playing while walking. So I said, “we should try it , let’s skip, Aunt Edna. She looked at me with her sunshine eyes and said, “I guess we can try”. We skipped and sang for about 7 skips and she laughed so joyfully saying she hadn’t felt that much fun since she didn’t know when”. It was a moment of joy and I played ‘skip to ma loo’ with my Aunt Edna.
