“ I am one of George's first cousins. George was an exceptional person. He spoke his mind freely, clearly and fearlessly; he cared for others more than he cared for himself; he put family and friends first in his life; and, he was always engaged - always interested - in things going on in the world. Even while very sick in the hospital, he was adamant about casting his vote and, of course, was equally passionate about his lottery tickets! He was always there for anyone who needed him, and he did not quit a job until it was done. There is a Yiddish Proverb that says, "The eyes are the mirror of the soul." That was particularly true for my cousin, George. I thought that his beautiful eyes reflected all of the humor, compassion and kindness that made him who he was. I loved him, and will miss him very much.

“ Sincere condolences to George's family. He will be missed by all of us who have known him for many years. His trademark was his kind smile and positive attitude. He always was one of the first to volunteer to help with club events.

“ Dear Family of George,
I have known George about ten years in the Houston Underwater Photographic Society. He was always a gentleman and a ready volunteer to help with club events. He will be missed for his constant smile and great attitude. He will also be missed at the Christmas dinners for his famous key lime pie and Caesar salads!! He was such a kind person to all of us. May God bless you with His peace.
Sincerely, Jean Himes

“ My deepest sympathy to the Freeman family.

I was sadden to hear about my buddy, George. Since our days at Bellaire High, we've crossed paths many times and each time, I always came away feeling upbeat. He always told me what was on his mind and always kept me laughing about his view point on life.

When I last saw him at the hospital, he remained true to his nature. He spoke highly of family, of his woman friend and her boy. His goal was to get back on his feet and become a role model for her son. What George didn't know was that he was already doing that only he didn't know it.

I will miss his love of life and of course, his biting wit. He is no longer of this earth, but will remain in our hearts and smiles.
