“ *Echoes of each of each other's being.
Whose eyes are those that look like mine?
Whose smile reminds me of my own?
Whose thoughts come through with just a glance?
Who knows me as no others do?
Who in the whole wide world is most like me?
Yet not like me at all?
My sibling...My brother Howard.*

“ Our family is so sadden by the loss of one so loved and respected . Howard and his father was so much alike . They only had good things to say and always had a smile on their faces . The most thing that we will remember is how he cared for his brother through a long and painful illness . One that required so much physical help , doctor visits , hospital and nursing home stays . Howard was there for him till the end taking care of all his needs , often when he was not well himself . He was a true family man and loving son . Yes , he will be remembered by all who knew him with good memories as that is how he live his life . He lived a good life . He was a truely good man . We love you Howard .
