“ *Jason & Britta:
I remember Jake when he came to Shaman Therapeutic Riding Center. He was always so brave and I knew he would be strong because of both of his parents. He was loved by many and will be missed.

“ Though I never met your sweet son, I can imagine how special he was to all who knew him. The message above was close to my heart because I can relate to your words. They teach us so much without words.

My oldest son once told my daughter the song your Grace is enough should remind her of Luke's happiness and we all should learn from him. The chorus in the song said he uses the weak to teach the strong. Our boys have so much to teach the world. Although, I am not convinced they are not stronger than the rest of us. I am praying for your family.

With lots of love and prayers,

“ To Jason & Melissa, and Britta & Frank: We are so sorry for the loss of Jake. Take time to mourn, take time to celebrate his life, remembering the special times you had. Remember also that he is free now with Jesus to run and play and be with his granddad, and great grandparents, and friends. May God grant you peace during this painful time. Please know that we love and pray for you.

“ Britta, I remember when you were first expecting Jake and what a blessing he was through all of his life. He did teach us all lessons that is true, because of his accident I have made sure my son knows how to be as safe as possible.
