“ Prayers and condolences to the family of Jay Wilson. We all at the IRS will truly miss him, his humor, his Texas twang as we say and his jovial behavior. He was special to all of us and are appreciative of the fact we were able to share special moments with him. He was and forever will be family to us. He and his presence will be greatly missed by many and especially myself. Jay was original and as I would tell him authentic when he spoke or had a conversation with you. He would always tell me what to do and that he was the boss, tickled me each and every time we interacted. He will always be with us as he has gained his wings and is present with the Lord. Jay we miss you, we love you and thanks for making our lives better with your presence!!!

If there is anything the family needs form us here at the RS please feel free to reach out to us. We pray for your strength during this time. Jay continue to watch over us from above-you are missed "Cowboy."

“ I am sorry to hear of Jay's passing, it must have been a sudden illness. I worked with him at Dept of Treasury. We started the same day on 8/21/2006 and were in the same class of about 20 folks. We were going around the room introducing ourselves... I was on the front row and mentioned I was originally from East Texas. When they got to Jay, he said "I'm from a little small town called Oakwood in East Texas". I about fell out of my seat and immediately said "that's where I'm from" since I also grew up in Oakwood. We always had a connection since we both came from Oakwood. I always appreciated Jay's dry sense of humor and he could bring the house down with some of his jokes. He often brought up a scenario that would stump the teachers. Jay will be greatly missed. I am sorry for the family's loss.

“ Jason and Buck, You know Blue always had a special place in our hearts. Remember Buck, when he was little, all the trips the two of you and we took. Blue was like a little man. He always knew exactly what he wanted to eat and there was no changing his mind. Ham was one of his favorites. We had some fun times and Uncle Howard and I will miss him. Rest in peace, Blue.

We love you both.
