“ May God bless you and your family in this time of sorrow. May your hearts soon be filled with wonderful memories of joyful times together, as you celebrate a life well lived but cut short. Death to many seems to be a part of life. Our Heavenly Father want his children to enjoy life and live, So He made a promise to do away with death at Revelation 21:4 "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." Let God's will take place, as in heaven, also upon earth'. Only God's Kingdom [government]can bring peace, happiness, perfect health, and everlasting life. At these times, may you turn to God's Word for comfort.

“ Having shared many memories with Jon throughout grade school, I was deeply saddened to hear of your loss. My first memory of Jon was in fifth grade. We both shared a lab table in Science class and he would graciously help me with my homework. I remember instantly liking him--he was probably the funniest guys I knew and also one of the smartest. I will never forget his kindness and his propensity to always wear a smile. I am very thankful for the time I spent with him. My heart and prayers go out to your family.

“ Our hearts and prayers go out to you. Jon had so much to offer and accomplish over his lifetime. He was the brightest and most charming of Austin's close friends at Cooper. So happy to have had all the time that he spent at our house over the years. Jon was always the best conversationalist and the most informed of his peers. Words fail us at times like this, but we can take comfort in the knowledge that we will all be together again someday.

“ Uncle Dale, Aunt Linda, and my cousin Jessica. Words can't express my shock of our loss of Jon. I thought I would share a quick story for you. The last time I was down visiting Mimi I took a picture of the photo of Jon, taking by his then girlfriend, on the beach which is on Mimi's refrigerator. I don't know what possessed me to take the photo of the photo, except that Jon reminded me of Grandpa so much in the photo. Well I remembered Monday that I have that photo and printed it up. It is now in my grad school/internship folder in my school bag to remind me that life is short, and I need to embrace the gift of life. I will miss that kid. It still stuns me that I will never see him again. We had some great conversations on facebook after "the wedding of the year". I love you all. I wish I could be there. However I think Jon would tell me to stay here and work on my papers all due soon. Again, I love you all. Stacy
