“ Joseph Unterreiner

“ Joe and I shared the joy of creating and building things. Joe came to public school in seventh grade. He lived next to my Grandmother and we got to be friends. We got interested in photography through 35mm cameras and developed our own film. They must have thought we were crazy hiding out in the bathroom with towels draped over the windows and doors. Then we decided we had to have photo enlargers and one of the retired neighbors had a lathe in the basement. He must have seen that we were excited about the project and did the lathe work for nothing. The we needed a special part and we made a casting in Joe's basement using the coal furnace to melt aluminum. Getting a little older electronics tweaked our fancy. That brought about homebuilt ten tube amplifiers. Of course we needed a preamp so they were from Heathkit. Later in life we enjoyed family camping trips. It was a great ride Joe! RIP!
