

Karmyn M. Crabb

October 17, 1975 - March 1, 2013

Karmyn M. Crabb Karmyn M. Crabb was born October 17, 1975 and passed away on February 26, 2013. She is preceded in death by her paternal grandparents Walter and Louise Crabb; maternal grandmother, Lillian Richards; and uncles, Walter Crabb, Jr. and Charles Crabb. Karmyn is survived by her parents Billy and Peggy Crabb; sisters Kristi Glasgow (Rory) and Kelly Burns (Lloyd Brown); nieces Shelby and Emily Burns; nephews Bryan and Patrick Glasgow; grandfather, Samuel Richards; many other aunts and cousins. Karmyn graduated from Huntsville High School in 1994 and attended Blinn College and Sam Houston State University. She was a talented writer and spent much of her free time writing short stories. She was an avid reader, enjoyed British TV comedy, and chatting online with friends. Karmyn was a champion of the underdog. She believed in helping those less fortunate and used every opportunity to support abused children charities, and many animal shelters across the country. Karmyn was our baby, baby sister and favorite aunt. Memorial services will be held Friday, March 1, 2013, 2:30 p.m., at Sam Houston Memorial Funeral Home in Huntsville, Texas, with Rev. Cloyce Johnson and James Patton officiating. Family will receive friends prior to service. A private burial of Karmyn's remains will be in Park Cemetery with other family members. Those wishing to leave memorial condolences for the family may do so at www.shmfh.com

“ My friend Tracy on Twitter told me the sad news today about Karmyn's passing. I didn't know her that well, but I spent a lot of time laughing at the bold things she'd say or do on Twitter. I always wished I could be that bold. She touched many people's lives on Twitter. She'll be greatly missed there. My prayers are with you all. God bless.

“ I just heard about this and I am saddened and shocked, I knew Karmyn for almost two years. She was one of the first people I followed on twitter, she was a kind and caring woman who checked up on me quite a lot and for that I am always grateful. I've never been much of a believer when it comes to heaven and God but I hope she's in peace and in heaven where a beautiful soul like hers belongs. Rest in peace, angel.

“ Words can't even big to describe what I am feeling right now. I met Karmyn on Twitter and she is was one of my first followers over a year ago. She could always make me laugh and always there to listen if I was having a bad day. She never had a bad word to say about anyone. My deepest condolences on your loss. Trust me in that she will be missed. Rest in peace, Special Peanut and keep on rockin' in Heaven to that Bon Jovi! Love ya and will never forget you!
