“ Just read in the State Bar’s Memoriam tweet of Lou’s passing. We spent many years of wonderful memories as driveway neighbors and miss the whole family but are still using the Cutco knives Mark sold us.

May Lou’s memory be a blessing.

“ Papa Lou, you were a truly remarkable man. I’m so grateful to have had you as a grandpa for many years & am even more grateful that Chris had you for the last 36 years!! You were such a light in his life & there was no one he cherished more than you (&gram)! We are so glad that our Little Man will share a name with you once he arrives Earthside! We will love and remember you always, until we see you again!

“ Gramps,

You were hands down the best grandpa there ever was and no one will ever amount to the kind of person you were. You always looked at every situation in a positive way. Even when I sprayed my drive into the trees, golf ball buried in pine needles and had no shot to the green I can still hear you saying, “the last shot was history, the next shot is a mystery”. Now I catch myself saying the same phrase to my friends. Being on the golf course with you is something that I enjoyed so much, but being able to call you my gramps is something I will cherish forever. You were the most selfless person, always thinking of others. Always asking what other people wanted to eat for dinner, what I wanted from the grocery store before coming down to visit, what crawfish place I wanted for dinner, asking what course I wanted to play and planning out each day and time from the heritage, tradition, and legend courses at Ibis to grand pines, miller, and weiskopf courses at Bentwater. I keep listening to the voicemails I have saved and every time I listen to them it’s like we were just talking on the phone yesterday. About how bad detroit sports are but how it’s always our year before the season starts, the newest movies out and how you always had the best reviews, about family, and always wanted to know how my career was going. You didn’t have to be concerned or care but you always did no matter the time of day. You shed so much positive light on everyone around you and always connected with everyone making them feel loved and wanted. I know for a fact that there is no other gramps that lived the life you did and enjoyed the things you did especially for how long you did it. 86 years of greatness and you will never be forgotten and always have a place in my heart.

Love you Gramps.

“ Gramps, you have been such an inspiration to me, and I’ll carry the lessons you’ve taught me for the rest of my life (along with the Euchre, golf and tennis skills you’ve taught me!). You have been our rock, and have made gram the happiest person in the world. I remember gram telling the story of when you sang to her as you rowed down the Nile, and all the stories of you guys traveling the world. I hope to live a life as full as you have. I love you so much gramps and everything you’ve done for our family. Thank you for being the best gramps, and for always believing in me. I’ll cherish the memories we’ve made forever ❤️

“ Lou Cecchini was my father-in-law. I loved him like my own Dad and I knew that he loved me like his own daughter by the way he supported me through the years. I am grateful for the man and husband he was because he handed that down to his son. Devoted, committed and loyal. You will be missed , Lou and I am honored to have known you!

“ Gramps - You were truly a one-of-a-kind grandfather to all of us grandkids and we were so lucky to have had (in some cases) 40 years of wonderful memories together. It's not only the fun occasions, sporting events, outings and trips that I look back on, but more often the little things that you did over the years that shows me how much you cared. Whether it was taking us to run around / throw balls in the neighborhood park in Farmington, squatting down into a catcher's stance so that I could rifle pitches at your skins while attempting to learn how to throw a curve, patiently teaching me how to get up on one waterski after hundreds of attempts, constantly helping to fix my golf grip / swing tempo, rushing down onto the football field after my concussion, sitting through a good number of baseball games, teaching me what style really was during/after the 90's "grunge" era, helping me to navigate countless "real-world" issues after college, serving as the true star of our wedding party, providing hours of free legal / career guidance and/or loving your great grandchildren as much as you did us, you always made time no matter what other competing interests you had in the moment. I see a lot of you in certain aspects of myself (both good and sometimes challenging) and only hope that I can live up to half the Gramps that you were. There aren't enough hours in the day to count all of the memories, or words to put how much you meant to me on paper. All I can say is thank you so very much for everything that you did each day and that I love you. We will all miss you, but I am very happy knowing that you are resting in a better place looking down on us all (and no doubt critiquing from your perch with the dry sense of humor we all love / try to emulate).

I miss you and love you Gramps!
