“ Oh Uncle Mac. We will miss you so much. I just keep telling myself that you are better. I'm kinda jealous of you. Now your up with Dad and Jesus and all. I saw an ornament that will make the Holiday easier on us. It said: Don't feel sad don't shed a tear 'Cuz I'm spending Christmas with Jesus this year. So for all the times we spent for all the years I think that having your persona as a goal will be my motivation. Not sure I could ever come close but trying to do so will make me an allright guy.

Aunt Texene,

I love you with all my heart, All the things you have done in my life and all the times you helped me through. Guidance when I needed it. Whoopins too. Thank you. Thank you also for the huge amounts of effort that you endured to help Mac through his courageous battle. Reagan Cooksey said it best... He beat it. Which he did. You stood by him for the fight. So in a great sense, You beat it too. I love you both forever. Both people that are to be admired by any and all in my eyes.

Muah!

“ Uncle Mac, life ended way to short for you...your strength for life was amazing. So was the joy you brought to each of us in our family and your friends. I will cherish memories when I was young, of riding in your 18 wheeler and spending weekends with you and Texene. I was even zapped by the electric wire for the horses... you will be so greatly missed. I am so thankful you are finally with Bob and your Heavenly Father....you are finally at peace. I love you....Tonya

“ Texene, my dear sister. My prayers are with you to help sustain you until we meet "The boys" on the other side of those Awesome Gates; because you and I both know they will be there with open arms, to grab us up, hug, and kiss us. Even though there are no tears in heaven, I know when Bob and Mac saw each other, they cried tears of utmost joy! It probably did not take Bob very long to show Mac to his room in the mansion. You know how excited the two of them got. jib,jib,jib.lol. I love you

“ Your strong faith in God carried you and Mac through his ordeal. I am confident we will be sustained in missing him by the knowledge that he is now in a whole body, free of pain. He fought the good fight, and we will miss him so much. I will remember the happy times when my children were young, the Christmas presents opened in the living room and Mac and Bob down on the floor "helping" my kids learn how to use their new toys. Such wonderful memories.

“ My Uncle Mac has gone to be with the Lord. I will always have the memories of spending Christmas with him, my Uncle Bob, Sandy, and others. They seemed to have as much fun playing with the toys as us kids did.

Texene, he could not have had a stronger friend or soulmate than he had with you. He was truly blessed to have you by his side all these years.

God bless you and your family.
