“ Mark always meet me at the door when I got home from work to take my work bag from. Then he would ask how my day was and tell me about whatever funny thing he saw the hodge twins talking about on youtube. He was always cooking dinner on the grill bc he said he loved to feed us and to see our faces when we told him how great it was. If I worked he evening shift he would carry my bag to the truck and open my door for me. He was always opening my doors . If he was there I never had to touch a door. If the girls and I went somewhere without him, he would stand in the driveway waving and blowing us kisses and yelling he loves us. He was the most kindest caring giving man I have ever met. Even when I was mean to him, he would always hug me and kiss me and let me know he wasn't mad. His heart we as so big that no matter who called him for help and no matter the task he always went to help right away. He was great working with his hands, and he could build anything just by imagining it in his mind. For 16 years he made it his goal to make me happy no matter what, and I made that hard for him a lot. But he always kept trying to make me and the girls happy! I love you my love and I will greatly miss you until I see you again!
