“ We have been to several family gatherings and know Peanut as the quiet man described. He is also a great example of someone who found ways to work and support a family. A selfless self reliant, versatile, person that could be counted upon to do what was necessary it help. It shows I nJeff and others.

“ Peanut was a humble man that loved helping others. He always helped my mother with maintenance issues, and after she passed away, Peanut knew how to keep her swimming pool working and was always ready to help my sister and me, while we settled her estate. He would never accept payment for his time or expertise. He was a true friend, with the heart of a servant.
I am honored to have known Peanut, to enjoy his humor, his stories, as well as his bar-b-que and homemade sausage.
