“ O.D loved animals. He loved donkeys and once had about 20 at one time. He was a Veteran and drove a wagon on trail rides to the Houston Livestock and Rodeo in the 1970's. He loved to be in the outdoors. He said he had been in numerous near death situations in his life, including a devastating heavy equipment rollover, then later a serious car crash. I guess every day after those experiences was a blessing. RIP.
