“ Jo---I can really say I know where you are at and what you are going through and my heart truly goes out to you. On the other hand I know where your mother is and that is with your brother and dad and I know how happy she was the second she met them and they her. You are going to have a very tough time of it and I am here for you as you have been for me but as you told me time and again "go ahead and cry it's what you are supposed to do and it's what will get you through". I will listen, hug you, and even cry with you--just know I am here and love you. Vic

“There is never enough time in this short life to share moments and create memories with the ones we love. We all get so caught up in our busy lives that we take the time that we do have for granted, and we allow it to slip away so quickly. We all forget to enjoy and make the most of what really matters: FAMILY. I miss you so much already, Grandma. I wish we would have had more time together.
