“ I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Phil Indelicato Sr. at one of his son's band performances a couple of years ago and came to realize what a kind, caring, and supporting father he was to his family. Through the course of my friendship with his son, I know that Mr. Indelicato's good sound character and loyalty are exemplified through his son and daughters. Mr. Indelicato will be surely missed, however his memories, personality, and character remain alive through his family. My sincere condolences to the entire Indelicato family.

“ I pray that God brings you strength through this very hard time. I want to say that "Paw Paw" has been and will always be a huge influence in my brother's life. He loved him like a son and our family is grateful to the whole Indelicato family for taking such good care of Tom when there were so many miles between us. I have very fond memories of "Paw Paw" and the grace and love he showed to me personally is so special. He had a beautiful wife and wonderful and loving children who became my family too. May God bless you all and I wish I could be there to give you all a hug. Just know I am there in spirit. "Paw Paw's" memory will never fade and will continue to live in us everyday. We love you all and will continue to pray for your family.

With Love, Susan Valentine and family.

“ Jerry and I want to express our sincere sympathy and please know we are praying for your strength through the tough time of saying goodbye for now. Phil was one of the nicest men I have known and you are all blessed as his children. You are a family with a wonderful example of depending on each other and I am so grateful to know you all. Love, Sande and Jerry “ Mark Twain says that, "The fear of death follows from the fear of life. A man who lives fully is prepared to die at any time." If there was ever a man that lived fully it was "PawPaw". There was never a person that he met that wasn't a friend. If he befriended you, he befriended you whole-heartedly. If you were welcomed into his home, you were family. But, along with being family came the good, the bad and the ugly. You were always loved and cared for but you could also end up being THE punchline in a joke or being poked fun of. Pawpaw loved to play and pick, and he loved it more when you presented a challenge and picked back. There were always smiles, loud laughter and hugs in the Indelicato household. Pawpaw will be missed, but he left behind a wonderful family to bask in the many fun-loving memories that he created in his lifetime. We all have good memories and we are all better people for having been touched by his joyfull spirit.

Love Always,

“ Annie,
I am so sorry to hear about Phil. Although we didn't get to see you all often, you were always in my thoughts. We grew up together and I was even in yours and Phil's wedding. I miss seeing you. Bless you and the girls and Phil Jr. I hope we can all be closer in the future.

Love you, Sammy Marsalisi

“ Our thoughts and prayers are with you. PawPaw as he was known to us will be missed dearly. We were blessed to know him and you his beautiful family for many years now. As much as hurts to say goodbye I am comforted with knowing he is with the Lord and even more with knowing what a blessed life he had, always being surrounded by loving children, grandchildren, great grandchildren and friends. He was a beautiful man...always smiling and cracking jokes. That image of him will always make me smile. I pray that the Good Lord gives you the strength to get through this sorrow, which I know you will because you have each other. PawPaw did a beautiful job raising such a loving family. We love you all.

“ We would like to take this time to tell you how blessed we feel to have known Phil. If a man's worth was to be judged by his heart, character and his commitments to family and friends, then Phil would rank top on the list.

His 61 years of devotion to his wife and family , and his loyalty to his friends made him an outstanding person. In all the years we knew Phil, we never heard him bare ill will toward anyone.

He accepted our daughter into his home as if she was his own.

Whenever you went to Phil's & Annie's

it was like going to the Olive Garden, "they always treated you like family."

Please know that our thoughts and prayers are with you in your time of grief and that Phil will be missed by our entire family.
