“ His mother was Bertha Elnora Henderson King. His father was Archibald King. Both are buried in Belton cemetery. He was the only boy and had 4 sisters. He was a contractor at heart and loved construction or building anything. He played minor league baseball where he was nicknamed PeeWee. He was a great baseball player and taught me how to throw a baseball then a softball. He taught me to assist with construction work and to work with focus. He taught me to tell the truth no matter what. He taught me to fear God's wrath. He didn't deserve to die with the loss of the movement of his arms and hands for so long. He never just sat around. He was always making something like an artist always has that creative side. He taught to not give up and to have faith. I know he is still doing his work on the other side and probably still smoking cigarettes..lol..

“ I cannot imagine your pain at this time; please know my heart, thoughts and prayers are with all of you. I was honored to have known your father, and met his loving family - ALS is a terrible disease; he knew that yet his continued HOPE and vivacity with life gave all of us inspiration! God bless you all.
