“ Most people call me Rip. It was 1996 and my life was in turmoil. I had rejoined the navy and was stationed at North Island with Steve. My lowest days and I met this guy with a no lose smile and a worn warm leather hat. He was from my hometown of Houston and let music open his soul. Our common ground was being a couple of retreads in the navy, but the consequence of our existence would travel for decades. I lost contact with Steve and Laurie in 1999, but always wondered what he had become. Your son made me sing late at night and taught me how to play the rainstick. I cannot believe he is gone and my heart is in panic for his babies. Steve didn't make flowers for my wedding or sing me to sleep. He shared his lost soul and pain with me. He inspired me to put down my fever and face the lord. He illustrated courage through his own life so that I could step into my own potential and serve a much higher purpose. My parents and children experience the life I give them and much of our joy and outlook is from what Steve taught me how to be. Laurie? If you ever read this, I'm so sorry and miss you. To the man who had the coolest shoes and hat in Texas, I will surely miss you. Rip bayless

“ I wish I had known of Steve's passing earlier so I could have paid my respects. We were friends for a very long time. He was the most caring, giving, selfless, understanding, tender and loving human being I have ever met. Too bad you never really knew the Steve Warren (Warren "G") that ALL his friends knew him as. The NON-judgmental person he was did NOT come from your upbringing or your influence in raising him. He was a truly unique individual!! I thank God I had the opportunity to know him as I did!! He can now Rest In Peace!!!

“ MOM & DAD; I just want to thank you for making the last 3-4 months of my life so EMPTY ! I didn't have the opportunity to enjoy my friends, cuz u chose not to allow them in my life! Just the same as when I was growing up, you NEVER knew ME for who I really was! Your only thoughts were selfish, you had to have things YOUR way, with no consideration for what I wanted my last days! My friends CARED for me and were there for me thru some very hard times! Your controlling ways took so much from me in my final days! You DID NOT let any of my friends know in time to be there . . . and they truly cared about me . . . Jeremiah Benjamin Christian
