“ I am friend of Sheila Tyson, and i met Stewart her father after Hurricane Ike damaged his home. He was quite a character, but it was plainly obvious to me he loved you all, dearly. So very sad for your loss Sheila. Your family is in my thoughts and prayers.

“Daddy , I will miss you more than you know. I carry guilt and other issues on my shoulders , not knowing if you heard me say how much i loved you and how sorry i was we didnt resolve things sooner. I can only pray you did. With your final strength you put your arms around me, kissed me and said I love you too. I just hope you forgive me as well.

Not a single day goes by Dad that i dont think about you... even wishing you'd call me again just to ask what were eatin or what everyone is doing.. or even to yell at me. I dont think its completely sunk in that i'll never see you again or hear your voice or laugh again . Thats hard for me to accept. I hold your shirt close to my heart when my heart literally hurts that youre gone.. Taylor loves and misses you so much and Mom cries anytime someone talks about it.. we know she still loves you, you know it too :) They say in time it wont hurt so much , but right now i cant see that as possible. I dont seem to have tears left.. but i must think about your last minutes , me lying next to you talking to you, wondering and praying you heard everything , at least 100 times a day. Sleep is hard and i always wish you'd come to me in my dreams and tell me anything that might make me rest easier. We may not have been as close as we should have Daddy.. but never doubt, Youre my father and i couldnt love and miss you more. Im sorry for everything and mostly for time lost. I love you and I pray to god youre in peace and happy .

Sheila

“ It always made me happy to see Stewart at our family gatherings. Now that I've worked out in the oilfield myself, I would have really been able to enjoy the stories he had, man to man. He will be missed.

“ Growing up with my grandfather, I became fascinated of stories from long ago. I always enjoyed listening to Stewart he told stories from the oil field to deer hunting. To the family; I am honored to have gotten the chance to see Stewart in the last days, he was a character.
