“ Beautiful woman inside and out, she had the prettiest crystal blue eyes. On my best days I would get told "you have your Meme's eyes today" I will forever love her and miss her so much. She would always say or sign her cards...I love you a bushel and a peck and a hug around the neck.

“ Aunt Sue, I love you. Last time I saw her, I hugged her and starting crying and didn't want to let her go and hugged her again and told her I loved her. She told me she loved me and started crying too. I remember every time my Daddy (her brother Billy) would visit her and it was time to leave she would hug him and start crying. Every time without fail. They loved each other so much. Even though we are not all together and may not see each other for years. Our families have always and will always love one another. In this crazy world I always know that. I know my Daddy, Sammy, & Sue are all laughing together in heaven. I will always remember her beautiful smile. Jimmy & Tina I love you and praying for loving comfort for all your family. Carolyn

“ I will truly miss Sue! She was my friend as well as my customer for over fifty years. We have had some wonderful times at the beauty shop discussing many things and sharing the good times and the bad times.
She is now free to soar to Heaven and be with Jesus and all of her loved ones there!
I will be seeing you later...

When I was a little girl I got to go with my "Aunt" Sue to the beauty shop to get her hair done. Something she did often and on a regular basis. I watched her that morning apply her lipstick sitting at the vanity in her home with Uncle Nelson. Her finger nails painted and her clothes laid out, she teased her hair up some put her jewelry on and she declared we were now ready to go to town. That evening I sat on the floor and I watched as she tied her hair up and applied moisturizer to her face. In my little girls eyes she was a movie star. Always put together to look pretty not only for herself but when I asked to look pretty for Uncle Nelson. She represented a place of Home for my mom, Dian, and the only family I ever really knew related to my mom. Texas was where I was born. Texas was where I was raised for several years. Texas is where I come back to for wonderful memories of Longhorns, running through the sprinklers, camping, Fourth of July fireworks, trips to the beach. Getting to wear my first lipstick and cuddled up with Nelson in the recliner rocking while he'd tell me tales. Having my "coffee" (with milk & sugar) on the back porch in the mornings...something I still do in my "old" age and when the birds sing and the wind chimes play their song I can remember being on a back porch in Texas. She was always so active and could command a room or get plans made. I wish my moms health was just better than it was/is/could be so they could have had time together. As I sit here and look at my painted nails I remember one of the last things she said to me on the phone was "I love you, Deedra Ann I love you". My heart is broken. I hurt for my mom as her pain and grief has made her feel more alone in this world, Sue was always her foundation. My movie star auntie you were loved more than you ever knew and you will be so greatly missed.

Lovely lady and friend. We missed her after she started going to church with Joe. She was an inspiration, having gone through so much, she always came out smiling and thanking her Lord. Our prayers go out to the family.
