“ Many years ago, I spent a night at Mrs. Holly's house with some friends. We were in elementary school at the time. Mrs. Holly secretly dressed in an old Halloween costume, sneaked out the back door and knocked on the front door. We were all scared, and it gave her a good laugh. She had a positive influence on my life: I would never have gone to the Baptist Youth World Convention in 1958 had it not been for her telling my parents about it. Mae Sue Davis Leslie

“ You will missed very much Granny Holly. You poured your love into my parents before I even existed. You taught me how to make homemade chicken n dumplings and many, many baking secrets. Thank you for the impact you and your husband had on my parents, me and my siblings. Love you. Prayers and comfort for the Holly family.
