“ Tara was a beautiful child. Always smiling, playful, mischievous, and the first to success that everyone play a game. When our family would get together at Christmas, she was the one to gather all the cousins together to select and practice the Christmas songs that each one would sing as part of the evening entertainment for the adults. I have precious memories of our time together on those special occasions. It is a tragedy that she was taken away from her loved ones at such a young age. I pray for all who are grieving her loss, that God would give them comfort and peace during this time of pain and sorrow.
