You always knew what to do and I wish I did. I miss you so much. I swear I still hear your voice every time I walk out of your front door tellin me to take care of my mama and watch my back. I wish you were actually there to tell me, and meet Candase you would absolutely love her. I love you Big Daddy. Until I see you again.

“ Johnse is having an amazing time at school. He’s being a huge PITA at home, but he’s behaving at school. For the most part hahaha. We’ve had a few issues, but I think he’s finally getting his bearings.

Matthew and Nathan’s birthdays are coming up. I am making birria tacos on Sunday for them. Can you believe Nathan is going to be 20?! And Matthew 22!!! So crazy, I still see them as little boys. You threatening Nathan for being a butthead and him throwing fists up and asking if you wanna fight. He’s was always a handful. Matthew is and has always been such a sweetheart and that has never wavered. Oh if you could see them now.

Paul and Kys baby girl is turning 1 Saturday! She’s so adorable. You would just adore her. She has the sweetest smile and when she gives you a hug she snuggles her whole head into the crock of your neck. My Paul seems so happy with them.

I’m so proud of all my boys. I always worry that I failed them or was too mean or rough, but if I was they have been able to grow and love and forgive me. And I am so thankful. Thank you for being such an amazing grandfather to me and and even better great grandfather to my boys.

I love you. Until I see you again...

“ It’s the night before Johnse 1st day of school. I remember I used to bring the boys by your house on thier 1st day. Big came over. She told Johnse you told her from Heaven to have a good 1st day. I can still remember your voice and laugh. 😊 thought I lost it. But just now I heard it.

Miguel started a new job last week. It’s been good for him and it’s starting to spill over at home some days too, I can’t wait for it to happen all the time. I miss good days with him.

I love you. Summer is coming to an end. Another year is creeping up. Sometimes it feels like you just left and other times it feels like a lifetime ago.

I love you forever

“ I heard a poem today and it made me think of you. It's by Josie Balka

*I hope you don't miss me in heaven as badly as I miss you here.
I hope for you the silence is peaceful and the thingy of me feels like dejavue.*

*A wave of familiarity that you can't quite put your finger on.
Empty for only a moment once in a while and gone like the wind after that.*

I hope when you got there you were swept over like a wave of forgetfulness so you're still entirely full of life and happiness but you can't remember why.

And pieces of me are a part of you in way that you feel even more complete.

I hope you don't have to miss me up there in the way that I miss you down here.

I can't imagine heaven feels how I feel without you.

I hope you yearn for nothing and no one.

I hope there is no pain at all.

Maybe I'm feeling both our at once and that's why it feels so heavy.

If that's the case it means you are with me and I'm okay with that.

I hope in Heaven grief does not exist and I show up in your dreams on occasion and the feeling of having me near you lingers with you thru the morning after you wake up.

I hope those are the same nights you show up in mine.

And if in Heaven you can't remember me at all.

I hope the wave of forgetfulness that overtook you when you arrived turns into an ocean of remembering when we meet again like we never spent a moment apart.

And I will forget what it's like to be without you and you will have never known what it was like to be without me because you found the peace I had hoped you'd find while I found my way back to you.

“ Hey Bigdaddy.

I miss you. Shocker right? Life's been upside down. I'm struggling with lots of stuff. I've been taking care of Miguel's dad and it's just been awful. He's started to get mean, like tone of voice. He hasn't really said anything mean except that I should do what he says because he's old. That went over about as well as you would expect haha. So much more I could complain about, but I'm gonna move in to the better stuff.

Paul and Kylinn are doing great. Kyndall is almost 9 months old and she the best thing. She brings us all so much joy, I look forward to Saturdays so much. She crawling and pulling up. She started clapping and she laughs when she crawls to me. I love snuggling her when she naps in my arms. I can just picture you rocking her in front of the big living room windows. She would have adored you.

Matthew and Candase are doing well. I don't get to see him very often and it hurts my heart so much. But when I talk to him he sounds good. I know he calls Biggramma often and she tells me how much she loves his voice.

Nathan and Riley are doing well. Nathan's working for my Uncle Shane Rachal now. This was his first week. He says he likes it a lot. Riley's family has a little mini farm and he brings over baby ducks. And once a baby goat. That thing was so loud lol.

I miss you. I hope one day to see you again. I don't know how it works, but one day. I love you.

“ Hey Bigdaddy. It's been a few months, what is it- time holds no something for love? Something like that. Hahah.

Johnse just turned 6 a few days ago. He loves being 6 and growing up. He starts school in august, we won a seat in a raffle for a charter school.

Nathan is doing really good. He's living with his girlfriend Riley. You would really like her. She's so sweet, but very quiet.

Matthew is doing great. Him and Candase are still living in Athens and the live it up there. I miss having him close, but it helps knowing he's close to family still.

Paul. Oh my Paul. You would be so proud of him. And his baby girl is perfect, I swear I can picture you in that old glider holding her. You would love her so much. Him and Ky are doing so good.

Remember I told you I'm helping care for Miguel's dad? Well he's not doing very good. He's going to come home from the hospital soon on hospice. It makes me think of you, at the end. My heart keeps breaking, for me for everyone. I wish I could take this pain away from Miguel. He will be the last one in his immediate family and it's weighing on him heavily.

I love you. Always and forever.

“ Hey you. Since you will never read this I guess I can just trauma dump on you. Bigdaddy our family is such a mess right now. My mama could use some of your words. Last week I had to file a missing persons report. I found out she had been missing for 20 hours. Artie never called anyone. He kept telling everyone he doesn't care about her and he just wants his car. That he's moving to San Antonio. I wish he would. Mama was found in a psychiatric hospital. Getting the help she needs. She's still there. It's been 10 days. It's hard living with a mental illness. Her and Sondra and nene don't talk. It makes me sad. I wish mom would travel or something. Tear down nenes room and put her in the house to help with Big. I love you. I wish we could go back in time and do things a little different.

Even just a hug or to hear you say watch your back and take care of your mama, or even hearing you and Big Grandma arguing. There's so many thing that I wish we could catch you up on and I wish so badly you could've met Candase you would love her. I miss you so much Big Daddy and j love you.

“ I just found the speech I wasn't able to read at your funeral.

Raise your hand if you was a favorite of Bigdaddy. (I expected at least half the people to raise thier hands). And I know he didn't tell nare a one of you that. He just made everyone feel like they were one of the one of the most important people he ever knew and whatever was being said he made sure you knew he thought it was important.

I've been lucky. I have known a lot of amazing men throughout my life. Subconsciously I've compared them all to my bigdaddy. He's always started the list, always been first. When I would get in trouble, big trouble- not little stuf, my mom would threaten me with telling my bigdaddy. Disappointing him would upset me way more that a threatened (and followed through) spanking. I'm so thankful I got the best of him for my entire life. I never realized that one day I wouldn't have him with me.

“ Hey Bigdaddy. It's been a while. Yesterday was Biggrammas birthday. I think we have a lot more years with her. And I'm so grateful for that. It's been easier to talk about you and remember you. It doesn't hurt me as much. It's like I can enjoy you again. Is that weird?

Paul is dating a girl who had a baby. You would have instantly fallen in love with her. The baby I mean haha. She's incredibly tiny and absolutely beautiful. She got me wrapped around her finger. Paul is doing so good. You would be proud of him.

Matthew is getting MARRIED in just a few weeks. To Candase. I've talked about her to you. They live in Athens on her families land. He works his butt off making sure his little family is taken care of. You would be so proud of him too.

Nathan. Oh boy. The one you would have your run with. He would have benefited from some of your talks. He's joining the Army! He should be leaving in November. He's so helpful to me. He steps in when he sees that I'm overwhelmed. And in that, you would have been so amazed. And I know you're proud of this one too.

Johnse. Oh he is growing. He doesn't remember you with his own memories, but we talk about you and he has those. When I cry he pats me. He used to always ask if I was sad because you died. And usually that was a yes. We are homeschooling him. It's too scary to send him to school right now.

Miguel's dad got sick and we bought a house and moved him in with us. I take care of him for Miguel. Helping with you in those last days showed me that having someone you love take care of you is important. So even though sometimes I really wish I had more freedom to do what I wanted, what I'm doing now is important for our family.

Bigdaddy, we've had some losses recently. I bet you already know. David Griggs passed a few months ago. And Ricky and his son Marcus passed last week in a terrible accident.

For now I can wait, but one day I want to feel your hug again. I love you.

“Happy Birthday Bigdaddy. I hope you are taking everyone's money playing the most epic poker game up there.

Things are better with me. I guess I just struggle with handling my grief. I had to get in anti depressants because it was affecting my quality of life, I couldn't put it away. And I thought I could and turns out I still can't without medication. I love you. I'm so thankful that I had you in my life as as long as I did. I'll update you on the family in a few days or so.

Xoxo

It's starting to get easier to think about you for longer periods. And talk about you without breaking down. It's gotten easier to picture you before you were so sick. I hope you are able to see us sometimes and know we are ok. And we are. All of us are ok. I love you and god I miss you.
