“ Tommy, I am so glad that you called me and we got to talk that Sunday morning. I will always remember that conversation and what we talked about. Another thing I will always remember is some of the walks we took together. I,ll never forget you taking me around to the plants in your garden and how proud you were of them... You and Sharon had some beautiful gardens. You were the inspiration for me to grow peppers in the rocks in front of the house. We also had some great walks along the river looking for arrowheads.. We always found something nice but the main thing was we has a good time. It was always great being with you because you were a great conversaionlist and you told interesting stories. I,m going to miss that and Tommy, you will be missed. You were one of the only people I could really talk to. But I know one thing. We will walk together again. When I join you up there one day I know you will take me on the good trails. We will walk again along the beautiful rivers and you will tell me good stories again. I know you will have some beautiful plants up there to show me and we will fine so many arrowheads that our pockets cant hold them all. I will be looking forward to that day on that other shore to see your smiling face again, Your Friend, Jimmy Lee Watson

“ I just heard about Tommy's passing. For 13 years of my life, and especially the first 11 of my adult life as my father-in-law, Tommy was a big part of it. Tommy was always gentle and kind to me, and if there is one thing I'll never forget about him, it's that. I think of you all often, and love you greatly.

“ Can You See?

*Tommy didn't get to see a paradise world - peaceful as can be!
No one sad, sick, or dead,
not even any wars to dread.
A world ridden of crime,
no baracaded homes at any time.
With many races of family and friends,
as if a beautiful bouquet of colorful blends.
An era in which the old will grow young,
what praise, glory, and honor to Jehovah will be sung!
This is no dream, tho it may seem,
for I see Tommy under a tree, looking about happy as can be.
For a new life he'll be livin'
this promise from Jehovah is a given.
I can see Tommy standing with me,
under the shade of that same big tree.
He extends his arm as if to shake a hand,
but this greeting requires more as together we stand.
No, this time a handshake will not do,
a hug from my friend is what I ensue.
Yes, the resurrection will come to pass--- can you see it at last?
This scene is real, the promise is true.
Can you see yourself there with me and Tommy too?

“ Sharon, Camille and Brandon,
I am so sorry to hear this news. I knew all of you since Camille and I were babies and friends growing up together. I always loved loved loved to come visit and have sleepovers with Camille. We were spoiled rotten, had a great time and Tommy always treated me like I was one of his kids. He was very sweet, always smiling and joking. He didn't care about what people think or materialistic things. He cared deeply about his family and knew how to make the most of each moment. People like Tommy are very few, he was a good man. Rest in peace and Thank You sincerely for the great childhood memories.

Love,
Christy

“ I wish I had words to express my grief at the passing of Tommy (Well-Digger.) Seems like all the old gang is gone, Tommy, George, and Bucky. At least I have some good memories and some great stories to tell about all of us (me, Well-Digger, Bucky, George, Judy, and Danny) all crammed in my red Gremlin in 1970 and the adventures we had. I will cry for him now but tomorrow and forever, I will smile at the memories.
