“ I have a lot of friends with the Montgomery Master Gardeners and Tim was one of my favorite friends. Whenever I, or any of us, asked Tim how he was, he would always answer, "Better than you." He never failed to make us laugh and we will miss him.

“ Little Tim. That is what we called him. We were the younger cousins that I assume were tolerated. So what I will always remember about Little Tim is what you see in his photograph. His never ending smile. And that smile could mean many things. What I remember most is his pranks, quick wit, and infectious laughing. Just last week I was talking to a patient from Little Rock about his scouting days and camp Quapaw. I told him about my cousins who were Indian dancers(yes even to the Mohawk haircut). When we used to visit them, I remember their room. Wow, filled with scouting and Indian dance stuff. Model ships and planes. Such a wonder to a young boy. And then when we went outside, they played with us(Easy targets). Many a pine cone fight which we always lost(Dale with a black eye). And right before the hit of the pine cone, there was that laugh that Tim was famous. Little Tim was a fighter in later life. But I'm sure he met those challenges with wit and a smile.I can't imagine anything else. As a physician, I'm sure his visits were interesting even though difficult. He will be missed by so many that his life touched. And all will remember his smile and wit.
