

Travis Russell Hubbs

June 21, 2014

Travis was a professor of English and a PhD candidate at Louisiana State University working in contemporary theory and continental philosophy. He was looking forward to teaching a course uniquely designed by him; “Critical Strategies, Philosophy & Literature in the 20th Century. He graduated from Montgomery High School in Montgomery, Texas, but always considered Austin his home. Travis shared his love for the water through teaching and coaching young swimmers in the Montgomery area. He has a BA in English from the University of Texas and an MA in Creative writing from the University of North Texas. He enthusiastically studied the ethical and methodological tensions surrounding the Freudo-Lacanian legacy and its many discontents. His studies included but were not limited to; Lacanian Psychoanalysis, Systems Theory & Cybernetics, and Contemporary Rhetorical Theory. He passionately wrote fiction and literary criticism. You can find his work in A Cappella Zoo, Blue Lake Review, the Journal of Texas Women Writers, North Texas Review, Spector Magazine, the American Literary Review blog, and the e-book series from Fiction Attic Press. His short story, “A Concerned Friend”, is set for publication this coming November in Spark – A Creative Anthology. He is survived by his parents, Hal “Spike” & Kristi Hubbs; brother, Andrew Hubbs, sister, Madison Hubbs; grandmothers, Mary Carol Woodie, Lois Russell; grandfather, Hal Hubbs and grandmother, Therese Hubbs. Also survived by many aunts, uncles and cousins. Services will be held on Saturday, June 21st at 2 pm in the Chapel of Sam Houston Memorial Funeral

Home in Montgomery, Texas. In lieu of flowers, A Travis Memorial Scholarship Fund is being set up through the First Bank of Conroe for any donations. . You are invited to leave written memorials on our website at www.shmfh.com

“ *Mr. and Mrs. Hubbs, Andrew and Madison:
I am so indescribably sorry for your loss. I wish I could've made it today to help celebrate Travis's life. I will never forget the great times we had together. He will surely be missed.*

Jenna (Wells) Sayers - June 21, 2014 at 08:38 PM

“ All our love and prayers go out to you at this time and in the future. Travis will be missed by so many and especially those of us who had the privilege of seeing him mature into such a fine man. Such a wise old soul in such a young body. I am so thankful that he had the opportunity to share his wealth of knowledge with others through the honor of teaching. May you always smile as he smiled with so much enthusiasm and spirit when remembering him. We love you.

“ Spike and family,
We were shocked and saddened to hear about Travis' death, but his spirit lives on! Celebrate his life by sharing the memories and his accomplishments with others. Remember, you are not alone in this heartrending journey. You have God and your brothers/sisters in Christ! Lean on them for support. We send our love, prayers, and heartfelt sympathy during this most unimaginable time. The Gomez/Clardy family (Dave, Karen and Kasandra)
