

William Phillip McMullen

December 19, 1956 - December 12, 2010

William Phillip McMullen 53, of New Waverly, passed away on the morning of December 8, 2010. Phil was born on December 19, 1956 to the late James William and Clemmie T Phillips McMullen in Houston, Texas. He was preceded in death by his mother and father. Phil was survived by his wife Nancy (Osborne) McMullen, daughter Jamie Morris and husband Marcus, daughter Misty Mandujano, brother Ken McMullen and wife Alva Lee, brother Jim McMullen, Grandchildren: Lyrical Babin, Zayne Mandujano, Alaysia Mandujano, and one on the way. The Family will receive friends and relatives for the viewing Saturday, Dec 11, 2010, from 3-5 p.m., at the Sam Houston Funeral Home in Huntsville. Funeral Services will be held Sunday, Dec 12, 2010, 2:00 p.m., at New Waverly First Baptist Church, with Rev. David McMullen officiating. Interment will be held Monday, December 13, 2010, at 2:00 p.m. in Van Vleck, Texas at Roselawn Memorial Park. Pallbearers will be Cliff Marshall, Danny Williams, David Cain, Steve McMullen, Marcus Morris, and James McMullen. Phil was a loving husband for 29 years and a caring father. He had many friends and rarely met a stranger. He was a veteran and served in the United States Air Force for 3 years. He was top of his class in his training for Avionics Inertial and Radar Navigation, and ranked as an E-3. He was an inspiring man with a passion to teach his talents, and the will to work hard. In 1986 he began his own air compressor business in Huntsville which he operated for 20 plus years. Phil enjoyed family vacations, especially annual trips to the river, snow skiing in Colorado, scuba diving, watching races, and music. He was a wonderful man who will be deeply missed, but forever loved in our hearts. Those wishing to leave memorial condolences for the family may do so at www.shmfh.com

Tribute Wall

“ William Phillip McMullen

November 15, 2022 at 08:33 PM

“ hi i'm lyrical grand daughter of Phillip m. i really miss him alot i didn't even get to tell him goodbye. he just left. the doctors couldn't do much more but they got him that far and i bless them for their helping hands . i think about him every day . i talk to him every night and ask him how it going. i asked him to hold my hand on the first day of junior high so i wouldn't be scared. and i wasn't . maybe he was there. maybe hes looking down on us now. Memory poem ,

*You walked in to my life,
But just like that,
You walked back out,
Still you will be a memory,
A memory that I have created in my mind,
Still you will be a memory,
A memory that will always be locked,
Away in my heart and my mind,
I will always have a memory of you in my heart,
And I will always carry that picture of you in my mind,
Still you will be a memory,*

lyrical - August 14, 2011 at 02:11 PM

LV

“ Nancy & Jamie, The service for Phil was beautiful and the tributes and huge number of family and friends attending spoke highly of Phil and all of you. I wish I could have known Phip better but always knew he was a special husband to you and father to Jamie. The few times I visited with him at family events always left me feeling that he was a truly caring and wonderful person who loved adventure. I always appreciated the care you and Aunt Sarah gave to my own mother and dad and wanted you to know that you are special in my heart. I know that Jamie will soon give you a special little one to hold and love.

Linda (Head) Voyles - December 13, 2010 at 10:29 AM

VD

“ Dear Nancy, Jamie, and Misty,
What a wonderful husband and father Phil was! I never really knew Phil until Nancy and I began working together the year Jamie started kindergarten. From Nancy's stories, I became acquainted with a man with a big heart full of love for his family and with an extraordinary mind--always wanting to learn more about the world around him. What memories you made together--from The Blue Lagoon to Colorado Christmas ski trips with hot chocolate and wassail to New Braunfels river floats (including little dog, Brody) to the family reunion with Jamie and Marcus in Germany. What exciting scuba dives Phil got to make as his work took him to places with deep water and exotic fish. I remember how Phil's eyes always lit up when he talked to Connor about airplanes and flying and faraway places. That last evening in Phil's hospital room, Nancy and I discussed how he most likely was trying to figure out how to take that hospital bed apart and redesign it. In fact, when he heard Nancy say the word "motor", he started talking--probably explaining how it worked! Phil lived life to its fullest and leaves this legacy for you daughters and your children--LIVE, LOVE, LAUGH and LEARN. May your memories of Phil comfort you all. Love, Vergie Dotson

Vergie Dotson - December 11, 2010 at 11:51 AM

CM

“ Dear Nancy and Jamie,
Many hearts are broken with the loss of Phil, but I do cherish a fond memory and it always brings a smile.
When he was a junior, I taught him English and he taught me to wash chickens! I really thought he was teasing, especially about adding a bit of bluing to the rinse water--all until Laura raised chickens for the Fair. Sooo, remembering Phil's instructions, with a bit of a grin, we washed chickens and added bluing to the rinse water. I hope this fond memory will bring you a smile.
Lovingly,
Clara Malak

Clara Malak - December 11, 2010 at 08:32 AM

KW

“ To the McMullen Family,

I was sadden to hear of Phillips passing , I was a classmate of Phillip and had often come home on vacations and wondered of him. He lived only .50 miles away from the home I grew up in. There have been many fun memories of him and other classmates. He will surely be missed.

Keith Ward

Keith Ward - December 10, 2010 at 05:53 PM

DW

“ Nancy amd family,
I am so sorry for the loss of your husband Phillip. May our Lord give you peace and comfort during this time. May He send many to support and love on your family.
Blessings, Debbie

Debbie Schulz Wilson - December 10, 2010 at 09:17 AM

RM

“ Dear Nancy and Jamie,
I was just asking Trish how ya'll were doing while shopping yesterday. When we got out to the car, Ashley called us with the news.
My heart and prayers go out to your family. If there is anything that we can do for you or the girls? Please let us know!
Sincerely, Ronny & Trish McSwain

Ronny & Trish McSwain - December 09, 2010 at 11:54 AM

DB

“ To the McMullen Family,
We are so sorry for your loss of Phillip... first your dad and now Phillip so soon after. My husband and Phillip went to New Waverly schools together and Don has so many wonderful memories of them growing up together. Phillip was supposed to be the best man in our wedding but he just had to get married the same weekend! In fact, just the weekend before the wedding, we were out "wrapping" houses on Halloween... many good memories! Gone too soon!
Please know that your family is in our thoughts and prayers.
Donald & Jamie Brinegar

Donald & Jamie Brinegar - December 09, 2010 at 10:32 AM