Pops you were more than a pops you were and still are my hero. I looked to you for many things, I argued with you about everything. But through it all I hope you know that you were and are loved with all the heart God has given me.

Your life was hard your health, basically, it sucked, however your resilience your passion and your ability to keep going regardless of the circumstances is a true measure of a man.

When I had my children I always told them. if they found someone that could live them 1/2 as much as I did they should hang on to them.

Pops no one ever loved me as much as you did except Jesus Christ. Thank you for that.

And j might as well thank you for instilling in me integrity, hard work and being true to self. You always said your word is your bond because your bond is your name. The name DeHart is strong resilient on forthcoming that accepts challenges doesn't turn from wrong when it's right. DeHart is the one thing you gave me pops that I cherish for all my days. When God called me home I'll see you there. All my love pops bobby joe

“ My memories stem from the time my sister Rose married DeHart and was a part of our family for many, many years. I lived in Houston with him and my sister and the children during my Junior year in High School. I attended Houston High. That was a hoot of a time.... He came to visit me in Colorado Springs and baked my son Andy's Smurf Cake for his birthday party (they share the same birthdate) - You left your mark on my heart DeHart... Rest now. you gave me many memories. From Patricia Gloria Zamora Bowman
